MRS. HUTCHINSON MOURNS LOST PIN

Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club is heart broken. The beautiful cameo brooch which was an heirloom in her family and which she treasured above all other adornments she lost last week Tuesday, following the meeting of the club. She wore it, and it received many compliments, at the Colonial tea which the club gave in February. Though she has advertised extensively, no trace of the missing pin has been discovered. She would cheerfully pay well for the return of the treasure which is of more value to her because of family associations than it could possibly be to anyone else.

AMERICAN GAINS RICHES IN ROME

(By International News Service)
LONDON, April 19.—An American, Henry Cohn, has acquired riches in the city of Rome and without any great effort.

Prior to the war Cohn was passing a fountain and his curiosity was aroused by the fact that English and American tourists were throwing copper coins into the water.

He sought enlightenment from his guide, who, after throwing in a coin, explained that if the visitors did not throw a coin and hit the fountain every time they passed they would never return to Rome.

Cohn was struck with the idea that a considerable sum of money must be lying at the bottom and after counting the number of coins that were thrown in an hour, he entered the municipal offices and offered to clean out this and other fountains.

His offer was declined, as there were no funds available for the purpose, but when the American offered to do the work for nothing no objection was raised.

Cohn engaged a number of men to clean out the other fountains, but he devoted himself to the large one that was the target of the tourists.

Now he runs an expensive motor car.

MRS. S. SMITH GIVES SMART LUNCHEON

Entertains in Honor of Mesdames Noble Ripley and Wayne Smith

One of the large affairs of the last of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. Seymour Smith at her pretty home, 415 West Wilson avenue, in honor of two sisters and intimate friends of the hosts, Mrs. Noble Ripley and Mrs. Wayne Smith. A pink and blue color scheme was effectively carried out with pink roses, for floral decoration, blue candles, dainty place cards embellished with pink spring flowers, and rosebud baskets for favors. It was a four-course spread and as smart as it was delicious. The afternoon was devoted to bunks and prizes were won by Mrs. Floyd Bradley and Mrs. John A. Logan.

At the time Mrs. Wayne Smith was a bride-elect Mrs. Seymour Smith was prevented by illness from entertaining for her as she desired to do. The party was therefore a belated but none the less pleasant courtesy to her, two friends by way of compensation and to each of them she presented a large polychrome candlestick containing a tall cathedral candle of the same shade, a very beautiful gift. Ladies present were: Mrs. Noble Ripley, Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. D. H. Smith, Mrs. John A. Logan, Miss Mary Logan, Mesdames A. W. Stephenson, Dwight W. Stephenson, Nellie Kapus (aunt of the honorees), Miss Helen Kapus, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Mrs. John Legge, Miss Myrtle Pulliam, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Douglas Balthis, Mrs. Fred Farmer, Mrs. J. T. Beach, Mrs. A. W. Beach, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Mrs. Smith MacMullin, Mrs. Floyd Bradley, Mrs. J. A. Ripley, Mrs. J. CRIME DECREASING

For two days there has not been one entry on the police blotter, which speaks well for the peace and quietude of Glendale. Chief Lampert says his records show that there is considerably less crime this year than last, so far.

MR. BRUESS ASKS FOR CITY'S ACRE

There was an exceptionally large attendance on the luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce directorate held in the bungalow of the domestic science department of the high school today at 12 o'clock. Not all comers were able to find seats at the big table and an overflow was spread in the ante-room. The attraction was Mr. Bruess, who is negotiating for the establishment of an industrial plant west of the city on acreage on which he has taken an option.

When Mr. Bruess was introduced by the presiding officer, Vice President Jesse Smith, and the guest proceeded to explain his purpose in addressing the board. As a preliminary he passed a map of the tract he is proposing to buy which showed that the city of Glendale owns a strip projecting into it about 200 feet wide and comprising an acre. This strip, he explained, might prove a serious obstacle in the way of subdividing the property and because of the benefits to be derived by Glendale from the establishment of such a manufacturing center, he asked the board to recommend to the Glendale city trustees the donation of that acre to Mr. Bruess in fee simple without consideration.

Mr. Huntley and others mentioned the ambition of civic bodies to secure an outlet from Glendale to Griffith park by the extension of Broadway or Colorado, and asked whether Mr. Bruess in consideration of such a gift on the part of the city would give land for such a street.

Mr. Bruess indicated he could make no promises at this time. The land he will need for the three projects he has in mind could be limited to 15 or 20 acres if need be, he said, but the balance of the tract was desirable for development purposes to be sold to other factories desiring sites and he wanted no impediment in the way of its subdivision. Another objection to a boulevard through it, as he viewed the matter, would be the rise in value which such a thoroughfare would bring about, and the consequent increase in taxation.

Mr. Hewitt as chairman of the industrial committee was appealed to and he said he did not yet see where Glendale was to be benefited, as he had understood Mr. Bruess to state that he intended building homes for his workmen and the establishment of stores, banks, etc., for their convenience.

Mr. Bruess then said his plans had changed, that it now seemed likely that the greater profit would lie in selling the surplus land to other factories and letting Glendale house the population that would be brought here by his enterprises.

After considerable discussion calculated to bring out the plans which Mr. Bruess has in mind, a motion made by Owen Emery prevailed "that it be the sense of this meeting that a deed to the acre of property owned by the city of Glendale be secured for Mr. Bruess upon his obtaining and showing to the city trustees a deed to the property he purposes buying and giving satisfactory assurance to the board of trustees that the manufacturing enterprises projected will be under way." This would leave the matter finally in the hands of the city trustees. The motion carried without a dissenting vote.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR FOR RUTH ROLAND

Harry Girard, 918 East Windsor, well known in Glendale's artist colony as a man of parts, has been called to San Francisco to act as assistant director of a new production starring Ruth Roland, one of Glendale's favorite film heroines.

Besides being a master of dramatic art, Mr. Girard is a thorough musician, a singer of note as well as an instrumentalist of much ability. Mrs. Girard is also the possessor of a beautiful voice, but has retired from the stage, temporarily at least, in order to superintend the education of her children.

"MAMMA'S AFFAIR" AT PALACE GRAND

Pleasant anticipation greets the announcement that "Mamma's Affair," presented by Joseph M. Schenck and released by Associated First National, will be seen today at the Palace Grand theater.

The always engaging Clarence Talmadge carries off the stellar honors. The picture is the screen version of Rachel Barton Butler's Harvard University prize play, which enjoyed a Broadway success last season.

The director, Victor Fleming has succeeded, it is said, in making it even more pleasing than when presented as a stage play.

The sparkling lines which gave the play such vogue are preserved in the titles while the screen version, perhaps because the camera gives even wider scope to the scenes of merriment, is even more replete with laughs than the play. It is a fittingly chosen starring vehicle for the dainty comedienne.

Miss Talmadge is said not only to repeat her former triumphs, but to ascend to new heights in her interpretation of the role of Eve.

"OLD GLORY'S" WONDROUS FOLDS

If you are not from Boston you will wonder why "Old Glory's" wondrous folds are flung to the breeze before the T. W. Preston home, 330 North Jackson street, today.

But any Glendale resident who hails from Massachusetts remembers that today marks the one hundred forty-sixth anniversary of the battle of Lexington, "where once the embattled farmers stood, and fired the shot heard round the world"—for in Boston and other Massachusetts cities, the battle of Lexington, the scene of the first bloodshed of the American Revolution, is always commemorated. It was in this conflict that Paul Revere made his famous ride from Charleston to Lexington, stopping with his warning at "every Middlesex village and farm, for the country folk to be up and to arm."

The American forces numbered 70 or 80 militia men, commanded by Captain John Parker. The British, with Major Pitcairn in command, numbered about 800. Four Americans were killed, nine were wounded. Several of the British force were killed.

CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. TABOUR

The Foothill Club was delightfully entertained last Friday afternoon by Mrs. J. V. Tabour at her pleasant home at 1315 North Louise street. Pink flowers were used in the floral setting which the hostess provided, and following an afternoon of 500 refreshments were daintily served at the small tables where players were still seated. Mrs. E. B. Wyman was winner of high score and to her went the prize provided, a picture of the San Juan Capistrano Mission. An interesting feature of the afternoon was the reading of a letter from the French orphan adopted by the club, expressing appreciation for what the club has done to make life happier and easier for the child.

CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. TABOUR

CLUB PROGRAM PROMISES TO BE A HEADLINER

FACSIMILE OF COVER

The programs for the evening of one-act plays to be given Thursday evening by the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club bears on its cover the above unique and artistic device, symbolic of the various activities of the club; the music section represented by the lyre, the literature section by the books, the parliamentary law section by the scales of justice, the travel section by the winding road, with the drama section's emblem occupying the center of the stage, so to speak (since this is their day), and the Shakespeare section occupying a high place at the top.

This beautiful design is the work of L. G. Sherman of the program committee, and it is a device of which the drama section and, indeed, the entire Tuesday Afternoon club membership may well be proud.

CERRITOS AVENUE SCHOOL PLEASURES

Quite a celebration was staged last Friday at Cerritos avenue school, when the big banner and pennant won by the athletes of that school in the interscholastic track carnival earlier in the week, were presented.

At the same time honors were distributed in the P.T. A. membership contest. At the beginning of the year a promise was made that the room which drew the largest attendance of mothers at P.T. A. meetings should be rewarded with a prize. That prize, which proved to be a beautiful picture, was awarded to the fifth grade, taught by Mrs. Irene McReynolds. It will be hung in the hall and on the corner of the frame will be a brass plate bearing the date, the number of the grade and the name of the teacher.

Last Saturday both divisions of the eighth grade under the chaperonage of their grade teacher, Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, and their teacher, Mrs. Annie Curtis, were taken to Ocean Park on a big truck, spending the whole day there and enjoying all the pleasures of the beach. There were about 30 in the party, the girls furnishing the luncheon and the boys paying for the truck.

Besides their activities connected with school matters members of the Cerritos P.T. A. have been at work making a comforter to be given away to the most needy object in sight when it is completed. The comforter top was a donation.

SPORTY PROGRAM AT AMERICAN LEGION

The Friday night program at the Glendale Post, American Legion, will be devoted to sports. There will be wrestling and boxing matches and other athletic contests and a large crowd of witnesses is expected as members of the Elks' lodge and several other organizations have been invited to be guests.

WHAT 'MAC' THINKS OF JOHN E. BROWN

Says He Is Old-Time Preacher Fond of Fast Horses and Chicken Dinners

William McMullin, who is devoting himself days, nights and Sundays to the real estate business at the offices of Edwards & Willey, tells us an interesting story of his old-time acquaintance with Evangelist John Brown which dates back seven or eight years ago when he held services here and when Mr. McMullin first met him.

"Mac" says he is a true old-time preacher who likes chicken dinners and fast horses. "Mac" was a little shy about making his acquaintance but Mrs. Mac insisted that it was for his good and so he was introduced following one of the big meetings. He found the preacher looking decidedly fatigued and surrounded by "about 200 women waiting to shake hands with him" (as Mac tells the story). As a fellow-man he felt a rescue party was needed so he "edged in close enough to suggest to the evangelist that he looked tired and to ask him if he would like to take a ride."

"What with?" came the quick response.

"The fastest horse in the San Fernando valley," Mac countered.

With a grab for his hat and a "Let's go" Rev. Brown made a break and took a ride that "knit up the ravelled sleeve of care" and made him fit for his evening work. He came to Glendale six months later, so Mr. McMullin says, and having come to regard him as a chum, Mac got a seat in the baldheaded row, even if he didn't belong there and was not hard of hearing. Just as the preacher had announced "We will now sing," he spied Mac, closed the hymn book and came down off the platform to edge in beside the layman and whisper: "How's the horse?"

Mac says he is going again to hear Preacher Brown if he can get away from the people who pester him to buy real estate and rob him of his Sunday rest, and "Prince," the fastest horse in the San Fernando valley,

CARL A. BUNDY TO ADDRESS FORUM

Magnetic Orator Will Speak on "Trade Marks," Also Boost for Convention

Those who read the report of the business transacted by the members of the chamber of commerce directorate at their luncheon last week will remember the enthusiasm which supported a proposition to secure for the next evening meeting of the Forum, Carl A. Bundy of Los Angeles, as one of the speakers. Members present who have heard him pronounced him a live wire and tremendously interesting orator. He is the manager of the "Carl A. Bundy Quill and Press" and will talk on "Trade Marks." The program will also include musical numbers contributed by Mrs. Catherine Shank, L. H. Yost, Alice Crawford and Elena Warriner.

The Forum dinner will be held in the high school cafeteria Thursday evening, April 1, at 6:30, and all who wish to attend are requested to make reservations by telephoning Glendale 1262.

HONOR MR. AND MRS. RAVENSCROFT

Yesterday—the 18th, being the 43d wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ravenscroft, they received many pleasant messages from friends, old and new.

The members of the commandery who meet each Monday to dine together before the evening meeting, called upon the couple, complimenting by saying they were proud of their bride and groom, and leaving with them a very substantial message in silver.

All the kind remembrances were greatly appreciated.

Is being especially groomed to give the preacher another ride in state through the fast developing suburbs of Glendale. Now that horses are so scarce he is sure it will be a real treat to Mr. Brown.

"Brookes is really a clever pianist, for he plays everything by ear."

"Ah! that explains it, then. I never believed he could make those sounds with his fingers."

The Car That Can Be Used By the Ladies As Well As the Men

Some cling to the old-fashioned idea that a woman cannot do justice to a car or get value received out of it. This is not true of the "OLDSMOBILE." In the past few months Miss Florence Wiltraut and Miss Susie Norman, city nurses of Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, have driven this OLDSMOBILE "SIX" over 3200 miles over all sorts of roads. And this is not all, they have averaged 19 1/4 miles per gallon of gasoline and have had no repair expense.

DEMPSEY MAY TAKE BOUT WITH BRENNAN

After Contest With Carpentier
Will Start Training for Contest With Willard

By JACK VEIOCK,
International News Sporting Editor.
NEW YORK, April 19.—Jack Dempsey is marking time these days, waiting for his coming battle with Georges Carpentier to roll around July 2.

Since he won the title Dempsey has done a lot of marking time. His bouts with Billy Miske and Bill Brennan have been the only ones of any importance in which he has appeared, and Manager Kearns has often lamented the fact that opponents have been so scarce.

Dempsey will not be such a lone-some champion in the future, however, if present indications do not go amiss. There are several heavyweights eager to mingle with Jack who are merely waiting until after the Carpentier bout.

If Dempsey beats the Frenchman—and he will be a ringside favorite—he will have only a short time to rest up before he must start training for his Labor Day affair with Jess Willard. Tex Rickard has this match sewed up and means to go through with it.

In addition to Willard, there is talk of a return bout between Dempsey and Bill Brennan. Fred Fulton is also on the trail of the champ, and Bob Martin and Bob Roper are coming on. Harry Greb is another battler who insists that he wants a chance at Dempsey, but it would seem that in the face of Greb's recent attitude toward a match with Tommy Gibbons he must be joshing the public.

Prospects Are Many
Greb was offered a bout with Gibbons by Dave Driscoll, the demon Jersey City promoter. Driscoll wanted Sir Tom and the Pittsburgh battler the worst way and was prepared to give them a liberal slice of the gate. Greb couldn't see it. He told Driscoll he would rather have Gibbons in Pittsburgh, where "we could draw much better."

Still on the trail of Greb, Brennan, Martin and the champion himself, Tommy Gibbons goes on his way, merrily knocking off opponents the promoters are able to get for him. He has disposed of three men in four rounds in his last three bouts up to

JAZZ AND LONDON TO BE DIVORCED

(By International News Service)
LONDON, April 19.—Jazz and London are to know each other no more. The shimmy shake is likewise to go. The golliwog glide, the alligator dabble, brontosaurus bump, and every other variety of snake, wiggle, wuzzle and glide have been tabooed in New York, but London has not gone quite so far.

London dancing instructors this season will taboo wriggly, squirming jazz and shimmy shake from their curriculum.

Dancing classes in future will be nothing but waltz banquets, with perhaps an occasional fox trot thrown in.

There is, however, one ray of hope for the configned jazer. He or she will not have to ape his or her Victorian ancestors, by waltzing all night and day, as it has been decided that the straight one-step, and the fox-trot, without the animal named variations, will be permitted.

In the place of "Alabama Madness" we shall have the piano and violin and the gramophone—dreamily offering up their sacrifice to Bacchus in the shape of "The Blue Danube."

GETTING PRACTICAL

"You know Bobbins, the tenor, who used to sing to Miss Skeezicks that every morn he would bring her violets?"

"Yes; did he?"
"That's what he did, and they got married; and now they're living in the country where every morn he has to bring her two buckets of water and help wipe the dishes!"

this writing, beating Al Reich in one, Paul Simpson in two and Sergeant Norcross in one. With such a heavy-weight championship prospect as Gibbons coming on and the Carpentier and Willard matches in view, the curly-headed champion will have an opportunity to make quite a profitable thing out of his title.

Johnny Buff, who recently knocked out Abe Attell Goldstein in two rounds and laid claim to the American fly-weight title, is eager for the coming of Jimmy Wilde, who is expected to invade the United States again in the near future.

Buff is no chicken. He is nearly thirty-five years of age and has a sizable family over in Jersey. But he is every inch a battler and he seldom if ever fails to give the fans a big run for their dough.

TWO MEN IN WEIRD CEREMONY

(By International News Service)
SANTA FE, N. M., April 19.—Details of weird religious ceremonies enacted by members of the Hermanos de Luz (Brothers of Light) were brought to Santa Fe this week by tourists who had witnessed the crucifixion of two men in the village of Abiquiu in northern New Mexico, in the county of Rio Arriba close to the Santa Fe National Forest.

According to these witnesses, the Holy Week ceremonies of the Penitentes included processions of fervent worshippers who flogged themselves with flagellants that had been dipped in brine in order to increase the pain from scourging. The strange performances were climaxed on Good Friday with the crucifixion of two nude men on a crude wooden cross in emulation of the passion of Christ.

The two men endured agonies on the cross for fully thirty minutes, when they were taken down, bleeding and exhausted. Their injuries were said to be painful, though not fatal.

Numerous other scenes depicting the suffering of Christ, from Gethsemane to Calvary, were reported by the tourists, all of which were carried out with great religious fervor and much solemnity.

The Brothers of Light, or Penitentes, are a religious order dating from pagan times. Followers of the order settled in remote communities of old and New Mexico, and a few descendants have been discovered at intervals during the past half century in this section of the Southwest. Disapproval of their customs have caused the Penitentes to carefully guard their religious rites and seldom have their ceremonies been witnessed by outsiders.

A CANNY SCOT

Sandy and John were aboard a car when a pretty girl got in and smiled at the former. He raised his hat.

"Do you know her?" asked the Englishman.

"Oh, yes, very well," the Scot replied.

"Well, shall we go and sit over beside her, and then you can introduce me?" asked his companion.

"Wait a but, she hasna paid her fare yet," returned the canny Scot.

UNITED WE STAND, DIVIDED WE FALL

"Present world happenings," says H. A. Graves, "are of more than usual interest to thinkers of all classes, for we are passing through the most critical period since our establishment as a nation; and a careful analysis of the whole situation reveals a strong tendency on the part of certain elements within our constituency towards division of interests. Because our national motto, 'United we stand, divided we fall,' is a known and established truth, friction is encouraged and insidiously introduced in every possible guise. Only through separateness of interests is disruption of our national autonomy possible. The attempt of sixty years ago failed in its intent and resulted in a greater and stronger amalgamation of our people; strong state and political lines have steadily eliminated themselves until, instead of separateness, destructive competition and loss of balance we have cohesion, co-operation and national equilibrium; and it is this equilibrium which our enemies, within and without, seek to destroy; and while presenting plausible plans for apparent unification of interests, they merely seek the downfall of the greatest and most acceptable plan of government the world has ever known."

"The government of the United States is founded upon a practical, humanitarian basis. It stands for progress, law and order, and self improvement. It offers every inducement to the people to encourage all that is noble, grand, true, beautiful, charitable and manly, in a manner lacking in any other country under the sun. It seeks to elevate man in his own esteem, teaches due and royal regard for woman, the law, society and the world. It aims to promote stability of character, makes for manhood and womanhood in the full, true sense, and both directly and indirectly seeks to increase the sum total of human happiness among all of its people."

"Our public school system is the highest and best the world affords and holds the lofty view of rendering our children stronger, wiser and more useful, therefore happier. There is a wonderful influence for good pervading the atmosphere of the true American community and the real American home. Our citizens pay the highest honors to those who know the most and who put their knowledge to the highest and noblest uses in every field. No potentate, plutocrat or power can possibly confer the possession of strength these things imply."

"No power on earth must be permitted to interfere with the united efforts of our people to inculcate in the minds of all our citizenry the very loftiest ideals of decency, manhood, sound morals and public order."

"This nation seeks no man; men seek us and flock to our shores by reason of the greater advantages to be found here; which overshadow any other country on God's beautiful, green earth. All creeds, colors and races are acceptable so long as they stand for honor, honesty and true ambition to know more and be better, through the development of true American principles."

"Here man honors, respects and cherishes Womanhood; nowhere else is she admitted upon such a level of equality. The American realizes that no civilization can rise to any great heights or long maintain its supremacy, that does not recognize its principle."

"It is the duty of every American to do everything possible to inculcate in the minds of all men an unprejudiced, unbiased analysis of any situation confronting the nation and the world at large; to put into practice and to strive to lead others into the way, not of violently opposing and antagonizing that which they may conceive to be evil, but of carefully diverting such forces towards constructive ends; and this applies to all classes alike."

"Our government centers in Washington, District of Columbia, (Columbia signifies 'The Land of the Dove,' a deeply significant symbol). It was there established by men of great wisdom and foresight, who comprehended and obeyed the decrees of a higher than human Power; for they realized that the United States would be the point where would be gathered together the children of the Great Father of All, and they laid the foundation upon the sacred foundation of true Maternity, and placed upon our banner the five-pointed star, the pentagram of promise. They foresaw the ultimate union of all men under it in one grand co-operative commonwealth, one God and one People. Our coat of arms is a heart of gold containing the stellar symbols of spirituality and the thirteen upright bars of Manhood and Womanhood. Our first President, an erudite Master Mind, gave utterance to many wise sayings and prophecies, not the least of which was a warning against internal dissensions or engaging in the quarrels of other powers, whilst at all times standing ready to administer to all their needs."

"Oh! Beloved America! Blessed art thou because of thy great destiny and thy greatness of soul. Built as thou art, upon the foundation stones of Truth, Wisdom, Purity, and Love, thou shalt withstand all the shocks of sedition; all the winds and tempests of ignorance and selfishness. Thy citizenry shall teach the children and the stranger within thy gates the Truth of thy High Mission as the Saviour of the Nations; for even now, in spite of calumny, false witness, and the activities of selfishness and vice, the eyes of the world are turned toward thee; the arms of the needy are outstretched towards thee in supplication for succor in distress, and thy response is immediate and thy giving unstinted."

"God bless thee, America! May thy people so love thee that they may bring thee through all trial and travail, into the glorious sunlight of triumphant victory over viciousness and vindictiveness. Borne aloft by the sturdy arms of Free Men, thy colors shall never be lowered until they gracefully dip in loyal salute as they pass under the Portals of Glory, into the Realms of the Everlasting."

62 LIVES IS TOLL TAKEN BY STORM

Property Damage and Crop Losses in Two Districts Exceed $2,000,000

HOPE, Ark., April 19.—With grim determination and aid of Red Cross workers, citizens of Hempstead and Miller counties, devastated by last Friday's tornado, which took a toll of 62 lives, today began building back. Wreckage is being removed from farms in the two stricken counties and the injured are being cared for, with pyramidal army tents furnished by the national guard serving as in-promptu hospitals.

Property damage and crop losses in the two districts swept by the twister will be in excess of $2,000,000. It was estimated by county commissioners today.

On the Texas side of the border, at Atlanta, O'Farrell, and Avinger, where the damage probably will reach $80,000, the work of building back also was begun today.

Eighty trees, uprooted by the fury of the mighty gales, are sprawled across the bankhead highway at Sheppard, a little town near here, where the Missouri Pacific railroad suffered a heavy washout. Train schedules north from Texarkana continued behind time and it will be at least a week before the roadbeds, made soggy by the heavy rains which accompanied the winds, will be in shape for normal resumption of traffic.

CITY PROGRESSES AS CHURCHES PROSPER

Following is the address made by Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the board of city trustees, at the laying of the cornerstone of the Holy Family Catholic church, Sunday afternoon:

I was very glad to be able to accept the invitation you extended me as president of the board of trustees of this city to be present this afternoon, and it is a pleasure to meet with a portion of my fellow citizens at the laying of the cornerstone of their new house of worship. This indeed must be an occasion of great rejoicing for you, as it marks the realization of your dreams. As you rejoice, I am sure the city as a whole rejoices with you.

A clean city progresses as its churches progress. The Church of God has always gone hand in hand with civilization and always will do so. No civilization has ever survived without the good influence of churches, and in many instances churches have restored civilization when other mediums have failed. Yet, I am sure that no one of us is desirous of any church interfering with our government, federal, state or municipal, for that would destroy the good influence that churches exert over all of us, and would deprive us of the religious liberty we always have enjoyed. Such a thing is un-American and I know that all are trying as best we know how to be good Americans.

There was a time when churches were intolerant of each other and spent their time in quarreling as to which special brand of theology was the correct one. Unfortunately, even today there are certain narrow-minded individuals who still believe they can best serve their God by criticising those who do not happen to agree with their particular creed; but, thank God, the churches as a whole have quit this petty quarrelling and are uniting in their endeavor to lead men upward to a better plane of living and leaving to the individual the right to follow such creed as he may desire.

During the late world war, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Knights of Columbus worked hand in hand in helping to make the life of the men on the field and in the camps better and more enjoyable. No questions were asked as to whether a man was a Catholic or Protestant. All were welcomed by both of said organizations. Why, the first Sunday I was in camp I noticed a Catholic priest holding services in a Y. M. C. A. building. This is a fair example of the good feeling that now prevails in this country between the two main divisions of the Christian faith, and it is hoped that this spirit of mutual helpfulness will continue to the end of all time.

Let me again extend to you the best wishes of our city and assure you that even though we all may not adhere to the same creed, we rejoice with you in this, the beginning of the realization of your dreams.

GARDENS AND FRUIT ARE BADLY DAMAGED

Illinois and Indiana Were the Greatest Sufferers From Storm of Saturday

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 19.—Illinois and Indiana were the heaviest sufferers from Saturday's storm and the freezing weather that still prevails, of any states of the middle west, reports received here today indicate.

Crops in many sections of these states were virtually destroyed. Gardens and fruits in Illinois, together with some growing crops, were badly damaged and in some places replanting will be necessary. A blanket of snow and ice covered large areas where crops already were considerably advanced.

In Indiana practically the entire fruit crop and much of the clover and wheat was destroyed in several counties, according to reports. The heaviest loss was in the northern section of the state. Crop damage in Indiana will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, experts estimate.

A blanket of snow 15 inches deep that covered southern Wisconsin is believed to have prevented extensive crop damage in that state. The wheat crop, it is believed, will be benefited by the moisture.

Considerable snow and freezing temperature is reported from Iowa, but it is not believed that field crops in that state were badly damaged. Some damage was done to early fruit, however, by frost and high winds.

Fruit trees beginning to bloom are said to have been damaged in the central and northern sections of Michigan, but crop damage on the whole in that state is reported not to have been extensive.

THE APRIL SYMPHONY

By Mazie V. Caruthers

April time is song time! Now, The orchestra of Spring Is tuning up—its feathered choir Starts gayly practicing; With shrill arpeggios and scales The budding forests ring.

The drummer of the overture— A young woodpecker he— Beats quick time with his rat-tat-tat, From a convenient tree, And bluebirds call rehearsals to This woodland symphony. Brave Robin Red pours out his heart In solo singing clear, While timid thrush and sparrow chirp The half-waked earth to cheer— Oh, April time is song time, as It comes but once each year!

Here are the Facts

Why Our Grade "A" Raw Milk is of SPECIAL QUALITY

We have always had a first-class herd of dairy cows. They have been tuberculin-tested every six months for seven years and we have never kept a tubercular cow on the place.

From this herd we have selected a few cows to produce a special grade of milk. They are specially fed on the best of mill-feed. There are no just-fresh or near-dry cows among them. They are kept in clean sandy corrals—no mud to lie in—and are curried and washed before being milked. They are milked by machine—absolutely dirt-proof. The milk is cooled and bottled immediately. We maintain a minimum bacteria count without using disinfectants—simply by keeping things clean.

ISLAND OF YAP IN CONTROVERSY

Tensity of Situation Between United States and Japan
Revealed Today

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The tensity of the situation existing between the United States and Japan over the Island of Yap was revealed officially for the first time today when the state department made public the entire correspondence between the two governments consisting of three American and two Japanese notes exchanged during the last six months.

This correspondence, which is distinctly curt in tone and reveals that each government had stood solidly on its original position and that each has so far flatly refused to give way in the slightest to the contentions of the other.

The United States is adamant in its refusal to concede that Japan is entitled to exclusive possession of the small but highly important island and Japan has clung stubbornly to the belief that Yap was awarded her by the allied supreme council and that the matter is thus a closed chapter so far as America is concerned.

The last communication from Japan, under date of February 28, is rather sharp in tenor and in spots inclines to be somewhat ironical.

FOUGHT VIOLENT BATTLE IN HOTEL

(By International News Service)

DUBLIN, April 19.—Two groups of crown forces, not in uniform, mistaking each other for Sinn Fein parties, fought a violent battle in a hotel at Connell, county Limrick, early today, according to announcement from Dublin castle. The hotel proprietor and two of the combatants were killed and a number of others seriously wounded.

FASHIONS FOR SMALL GIRL

By Josephine France

Many mothers are taking this time of the year, before they are quite sure of their own wardrobes, to solve the problem of spring and summer clothes for their small daughters.

Any form of dotted swiss is a good selection, there are so many varieties now to choose from. Red swiss with white dots, white swiss with red dots, gray dots on gray swiss, ecru dots on ecru swiss, blue swiss with white dots, and vice versa.

There is also a great variety in trimming that can be used with swiss. Valenciennes or Irish lace and rick-rack are used effectively. A sash to match the dot is quite effective. If the sash is of colored ribbon it should be tied at the side but if the material is like the frock it ties in the back. This holds true in women's apparel as well as children's.

Gray dotted swiss combined with white organdie frills at sleeves and neck is very charming as it would also be if red or blue swiss were used.

Frocks this spring may be either high or long waisted but the skirts are short.

Colored dimities are also among the favored materials for children this spring. A dainty frock of yellow dimity can be easily made. Three deep tucks finished with hemstitching, which by the way, is used more extensively than ever, trim the skirt. The waist may have plaited ruffles of sheer organdie embroidery in white about the neck and sleeves.

Checked French gingham are making many of the prettiest of the children's dresses. A novelty is seen in an apron of organdie that partly covers one of lavender checks. It is fashioned quite like the pinafore of mother's play days, with ruffles and strings trimming it.

For a white dress nothing is more attractive than organdie, although batiste is very good. There are so many adorable ways of making the little girl's frock. Ruffles, scalloped or lace edged, deep or narrow, are quite "up to the minute," but lone-some will be the dress that doesn't boast of embroidery or lace this summer. Underskirts, lace-trimmed, tucked and embroidered, are very smart, but every mother knows that they spell "work," not only in the making but in the laundering.

Bloomers are quite the thing, especially with the colored dresses, if they are made of the same material as the dresses.

Especially nice for the girl of eight or ten who likes the middy and pleated skirt, is pongee in the natural color. This launders so well and so easily that if one is traveling it can be easily "sudsed" and quickly pressed again.

For afternoon or party wear, socks with the one-strap slippers are preferable. So long as short socks are fashionable the slippers will appear far better than the shoe or boot.

BAFFLING

Doctor White—I'm up against it. I've a patient suffering from aches and pains, and I don't know what is causing the trouble.

Doctor Black—Had his teeth examined?

Doctor White—That's the point. I had all his teeth taken out two years ago, but what are you to do when a man has quite run out of teeth?

Judge—Have you ever seen the prisoner before the bar before?

Witness—Yes, your honor, that's where I met him.—Burr.

LAEORERS, CHILDREN HAVE FIRST LIEN

(By International News Service)
Hotel Savoy, Moscow,
December 23, 1920.

Dear Friends: There is little progress to report this week along the lines of our own work. We are trying to collect statistics relative to mortality and morbidity among children in Moscow, but have found it a difficult task to get any which we should be willing to forward to you as approximately correct. Last week there was an Assembly of the Soviets of the Moscow Government and this week there is a great Council of all Soviets. As a result everyone has been too busy talking politics or policies to pay any attention to requests for figures. People who have not lived in Russia can scarcely appreciate the length of time needed to carry through any matter of business. What we have accomplished has meant in almost every instance a grim settling down to a four or five hours' wait in some office, even though an appointment may have been made.

One item of considerable interest to Moscow has been the closing of the "Speculative" or "Thieves'" Market, the last visible stronghold of "speculation" and private enterprise. Many consider its closing a good sign in that it probably means that the Government feels a real bread famine not to be imminent in Moscow, and that it is in a safe position to put a stop to trading in semi-luxuries. Others feel that great suffering will result among office workers and professional workers, who are not in the first food category. It is indeed a tremendous change to see the Plaza now being used as a race-course for auto-cyclists, when one remembers the thousands of pushing people who thronged there only a week ago.

You will be interested in one feature of the Morozova Hospital, which we visited December 17. This institution is one of the two large general hospitals for children in Moscow, equipped for 500 beds, but only accommodating about 270 patients at present, owing to lack of fuel and proper food. We saw the surgical typhoid and infants' buildings. The wards were clean and free from smells—remarkably so when one remembers the great lack of soap. As everywhere, milk is almost non-existent; milk and soap are the most urgent needs, according to the doctors. Each building has its own laboratory for research work in connection with the special disease of that ward, but at present there are no proper chemicals for reactions and stains, nor is there fuel for individual laboratory work, so that little research is being carried on. This seems a great pity. Out of the present misery of Russia's children there might come some discovery that would help every nation's children.

But the interesting variation on the usual hospital ward was the glass-walled cubicles for suspected contagious disease. For example, the surgical ward contained about 30 beds, and in addition had four little rooms where possible measles or scarletina could be isolated. The partitions used to be wooden, but glass has been installed because it is cleaner, admits more light, enables one nurse to supervise several wards, and allows the isolated children to play with others.

We have both attended meetings of the Society of Soviets (all Russia, Congress), A. W. hearing Lenin's opening speech, which emphasized the need of the Communists' making their program intelligible to and popular with the peasants, and hearing an address on garden cities as the industrial ideal for living and working conditions.

The English and American residents here, together with a few of the staff of the Foreign Office celebrated Christmas by having a dinner, which taxed the private stores of almost all the participants, but which was all the more fun to prepare. Mr. Nuorteva, the Assistant Foreign Secretary with whom we have most of our business, was guest of honor, and made a speech explaining the reasons for some of the annoyances under which he realizes foreigners work at the present time.

Yours sincerely,

A. W. and A. J. H.

NEARLY FOOLED

"Well, Diogenes," said the inquirer over the Styx, "tell me, did you ever find that honest man you were looking for?"

"I did," said Diogenes, grinning, "and do you know, the crook would have fooled me if the tax assessor hadn't asked him a couple of questions in my hearing."

A corporal's squad, usually composed of eight men, is the smallest group in the army.

KUNTZNERS GIVE DELIGHTFUL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuntzner delightfully entertained a group of their friends at their beautiful home on Ross street Saturday night. The first part of the evening was devoted to cards. A luncheon of several courses was served and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Pomeroy and Dr. Dear of Los Angeles, who won high scores for the ladies and gentlemen, the consolation prizes going to Mr. Brenaman and Mrs. Decker of Los Angeles. The floors were then cleared for dancing. Roses from local gardens were lavishly used in the decoration of the living rooms and made a very pretty setting for the affair.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pomeroy, Miss Pomeroy and Master Ernest Pomeroy of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. C. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Branaman and Dr. and Mrs. Dean and Mr. Morrow, of Los Angeles.

WORK ON RESERVOIR PUSHED TO LIMIT

Peter L. Ferry will complete the grading for the big Verdugo canyon reservoir this week. He has ordered the cement and will begin the putting in of the 80,000 square feet of reinforced concrete, 4 inches thick, next week. The capacity of this reservoir is 7,500,000 gallons. Mr. Ferry has finished the grading for the Vine avenue reservoir and the concrete work will be commenced soon.

IN THE SPRING

A Young Man's Fancy Turns to Thoughts of Holy Socks
I don't care much if the girl be fair
Of face or not, or if her hair
Be done in shocks or close-bobbed locks,
If she can only mend my socks.

Though Love's young dream of spring may seem
To be a choice poetic theme,
I'll take a prose, unclassic nose
If she can only mend my hose.

A figure slim, an ankle trim,
Vivacity, pettiness, vim—
They mean a lot I know, but not Till I've had darned the socks I've got.

If you could see the way Sing Lee
Treats my silk hose, you'd quite agree
That if a bachelor could catch
A girl who'd sew and darn and patch,

He wouldn't kick if she were chic,
But, yea or nae, he'd grab her quick
And risk the strife of married life.
But cynics vow that such a wife—

Is out of date.
Ah, cruel Fate!
That man should thus
Be born too late!

ROLLS HEAVY ROCK UP STEEP HILL

Sisyphus, a prosperous citizen of Greece, incurred the great displeasure of the ruling powers. To punish him he was condemned daily to roll a heavy stone up the slope of a steep mountain, and when he had reached the mark set, after infinite labor, the guards would roll the stone down hill, and make him do it over again. He had to eat, and so he kept at it till he died.

This is a Greek fable, but how like it does our daily work appear to most of us. Grind, grind, day in and out, and never getting ahead. And do you know why? Because you are not doing the work for which you are best fitted.

All have inherited talents that will make for success and happiness. If we make use of these instead of trying to "roll rocks up hill," we will find life a pleasure, because when we do what we like to do, we are happy, and we really only like to do those things for which nature has qualified us.

Now, as cunning, pugnacity, and malice show themselves in a man's face, so do his inherited good talents.

It has taken years of study to find the true laws by which face and body not only express acquired tendencies, but also those talents which should guide us in choosing our work in life, or in selecting partners, employees or

COTTON SLUMP HITS SOUTH HARD BLOW

Farmers Will Turn to Other Crops As Thousands of Bales Are Left Rotting

By H. C. HAMILTON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga., April 19.—Facing the grimmest fight since the days of the reconstruction that followed the war between the states, southern farmers today are ready to practically abandon cotton as the backbone of their crops and swing over to commodities which will bring them more revenue. They hope they will not have to be drastic enough to seriously affect production of this staple, which in the past has brought many thousands of millions annually into this section, but already steps have been taken to cut into this year's planting with sufficient vigor, they believe, to force prices back to something near normal.

Conservative estimates place the number of cotton bales on the farms and in warehouses now at 10,000,000. There are fields scattered over the south spotted white with cotton which has been left to rot on the stalk. Farmers would rather it stayed there than go to the expense of picking, ginning and shipping.

Many things have contributed to the condition which makes the lot of farmers in Dixie unusually hard. First, there was the exodus of negro labor when the north began offering wages which attracted the field hands. Some of these are now returning to the south, but many others are not. Therefore wages mounted to a prohibitive rate. White men are not constructed to stand the withering heat of southern cotton fields.

Prices Below Pre-War Rates

Freight rates have shot up until shipment of raw cotton now is a serious business.

Still—cotton prices are lower now than before the war.

A canvas of the situation in the "old south," and extending into Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri, shows that state departments have taken official cognizance of the situation and are urging steps to offset what might happen if planters continued in the old way and planted big cotton crops.

Soy beans, something comparatively new in crops of this country, will be planted by many farmers. It is a valuable food product with oil products contributing to its value.

These facts have been developed in investigations by the International News Service.

Georgia's cotton acreage for this year will not exceed one-half that of 1920, provided a survey made by the state is correct. Food and feed products will replace it.

Tennessee, which has one of the world's greatest cotton markets—Memphis—does not raise a great deal of cotton, but Memphis organizations are backing a movement to cut the acreage of that state in half.

Nothing definite has been learned yet in Oklahoma City circles regarding this year's crop, but strong pressure is being brought to bear to make the crop smaller by half. Letterheads now being used by this state's agriculture board bear a cartoon which shows a whirlpool on the edge of the shore, "diversified crops." A farmer struggles in the whirlpool, which is marked "the one-crop cotton whirlpool." "If we could arrange to raise 6,000,000 bales in 1921 instead of 12,000,000 bales the credit of the south would be greatly improved," says a note on this letterhead.

Florida Looks Elsewhere

Florida—Various crops are being substituted for cotton. Corn, peanuts, sugar cane, hay, soy beans and similar products will be increased this year to take the place of cotton. Florida, remember, raises a large amount of sea island cotton, the rare long staple product which grows only on the southern islands and seacoast.

Arkansas—The propaganda has not filtered into Arkansas with full headway, and state officials are doubtful if the crop there will be decreased more than one-fifth. Food products will be grown where cotton is abandoned.

Texas—Cooperative marketing, under way. Crop will be cut 30 per cent.

North Carolina—Cotton will be cut one-third. Corn, peas, soy beans, potatoes and other food crops will replace it.

Louisiana—The reduction in this state will be from 30 to 40 per cent, according to state estimates. Corn, velvet, beans and truck crops will be planted.

Missouri — Watermelons, cantaloupes, potatoes, sweet potatoes and similar products will cut heavily into cotton crops here. County officials have organized to help cotton growers.

Alabama—Nothing definite, but it is presumed this state will follow others.

South Carolina—Crop will be greatly cut, probably 30 per cent, and food products mainly substituted.

It is really too early just now to gain an accurate estimate of the 1921 crop, for planting does not begin until May, but pledges of farmers during the drive conducted throughout the winter forms a basis for computation. The only fear is expressed by cotton handlers, who declare many farmers will depend on their neighbors to cut while they will continue to plant heavily.

Cooperative marketing plans are making their entrance. One of these is being heavily backed in Georgia. Tennessee, also, is strongly behind one. Farmers under this plan would be obliged to deliver their cotton to a central station, which would control its marketing—drizzling it out in such a fashion that the price to a great extent would be stabilized. Oklahoma farmers have been combined in one of these plans. Texas is organizing.

It actually looks as if foulards were to have another go. They appear in many spring costumes.

CARRY OUT OWN IDEAS

Editor Glendale Press: We read with deep interest an editorial in a recent issue of the Daily Press on the topic of "Blue Laws Echo of Can't Strike Laws." The relation of one oppressive piece of legislation to another is well shown.

It seems that there develops with many human beings from their earliest childhood an overweening desire to have things go their own way. Human nature finds no higher enjoyment than in being able to carry out its own ideas.

This desire for power and control takes precedence of all other desires in the minds of some as they advance in life. And because this is true another thing has always been sorrowfully true; namely, Our old world from the dawn of history in the Babylonian valley to the great world war has been the prey of every conceivable type of despot calling himself a ruler and setting up some sort of government over his fellowmen. Almost without exception through all antiquity governments endured only so long as the kingly arm was strong or the royal treasury could finance bands of mercenary troops. Little or no thought was given to the fundamental principles which ought to control the relations of men.

If, by strategy or worse a despot were unseated, a new one took his place and the injustices continued. If the mercenary troops revolted to the enemy because of more pay, it simply meant that a new government from a foreign land, but still despotic, took control. During the middle ages we do have a somewhat new idea develop. In England they demanded of the king certain rights and obtained them. From the days of the deification of the Pharaoh, through the age of the apotheosis of the Roman emperor the theory of state was virtually that the ruling house was of an order high above all the people who were created simply to carry out the bidding, and if possible, please the august ruler.

The event in England which we know as the granting of the Magna Charta brought the modified idea. The government, or ruling powers were viewed as making a compact with the people, the nation. This was a little improvement, but it was only halfway to freedom.

A few more centuries rolled by and we had the dawn of a new day, the birth of a new theory of state. Regarding the foundation principle of our government Madison wrote: "The government of the United States  rests on compact; a compact, not between the government and the parties who formed and live under it, but among the parties themselves."

Therein lies the mighty difference, the difference between a government inherently despotic and one inherently democratic and free.

This foundation principle finds no place for the self-appointed controller of men, no matter in what capacity. We need to take some first lessons in Americanism at times. We need to have grounded into us the fact that when a man or a clique of men arise declaring that we must carry out certain phases of our government in their particular way and proceed to make them effective by lobbying our legislators out of countenance, that such actions are foreign to our land and inimical to our free institutions and ideals.

We need to oppose every such encroachment as we would the leprosy. We need to oppose such encroachments on principle and because of a high regard for the safety of our free state and not simply in proportion as they affect our specific status. If all guard all the time, all will be protected. If the defense be desultory it will ultimately be ineffective and the danger will gain momentum. For a man to say that he is not going to become alarmed because the situation does not affect him, is to show not only a lack of cooperation with his fellowman, which is vital to a republic, but also a sad misapprehension of how a democratic government exists. No more is it possible for one portion, class or strata of our national society to be suffering from political injustice and the rest of us remain immune and free; than it is possible for a limb of the body to be suffering with some loathsome disease and the rest of the body remain immune and function properly. The figure may be carried further. The body can ill afford to have any part not functioning properly when every healing energy of the whole system is directed toward the repair of the trouble. We need to apply this truth to the great aggregate of human beings which we know as our United States. In union there is strength.

We must never become lax in our fight to uphold the principles of our land. Men with disordered minds who feel a call from God to reform the whole country to their standard by some strange law, and others inspired by the devil to wheedle us out of hard-earned savings by various subtle legal manipulations, will always be arising. We must meet them in every generation. That is why eternal vigilance is the price of safety. But as the ancient apostle declared: Let us not become weary in well-doing.

F. D. NICHOL,
113 South Belmont street, Glendale.

The habit of contradicting sometimes overleaps itself unwittingly.

"I've heard it said," remarked a loungee at the crossroads store, "that John Henderson, over by Woodville, was one of 13 sons."

"That's whar ye heered wrong," contributed the chronic kicker.

"Twan't John Henderson at all. 'Twas a brother of his'n."—Lippincott's.

WORKMEN DONATE THEIR SERVICES

Contribute Labor to Equipment and Repair of Monte Vista Welfare Home

Mrs. Ralph Meeker and Mrs. Ella Richardson of this city motored to Monte Vista Sunday where they found electricians at work putting in $1200 worth of supplies and donating the services of the men who are installing them in the welfare home that is being established by the Council of Community Service, with city and county help. Members of the council were there before them with lunches which they served to the men who were so generously donating their time and labor to the cause. Floors were being taken up to allow for the proper wiring of the building. The old gas fixtures have been converted into electric chandeliers and are much finer than could otherwise have been afforded. The Sunday before, about 75 carpenters and electricians were at work there.

Mrs. Meeker, as chairman of the Glendale committee, which has assumed the responsibility of furnishing the kitchen, was naturally interested in the progress of that room. One of the Glendale carpenters who was present measured the kitchen and estimated the amount of additional lumber that will be needed. Mr. Thompson of the local carpenters' union said that he would present the matter to his organization at its regular meeting and try to secure enough volunteers to go up next Sunday to do the work. Mrs. Meeker is therefore asking members of her committee to share with her in the pleasant duty of acting as hostess to the volunteers and serving them a nice luncheon next Sunday. Other Glendaleans who are interested in this project and disposed to help in the furnishing of a lunch to these generous workmen, are asked to report to Mrs. Meeker what they wish to do. Ladies of the Council of Community Service will also be there as other workmen will be present to complete the electrical and allied work on the building.

Carlos Hardy of Hollywood was one of the working guests Sunday who made coffee for the luncheon served to the electricians. It was spread in the old oak grove which made a fine picnic ground.

Glendale carpenters and electricians who have helped with the work are: G. C. Slate, E. E. McQuivy, A. McIntyre, F. Lake, S. S. Jackson, O. G. Thompson and C. Cheney.

BUSINESS MEN ASK FOREIGN OUTLETS

American Manufacturers and Exporters Want More Foreign Trade

By W. J. HUSKE
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, April 19.—"Greater prosperity through foreign trade." With this slogan more than 1000 delegates, representing American manufacturers and exporters, will gather in Cleveland May 4 for the eighth national foreign trade convention held under the auspices of the National Foreign Trade Council. The sessions will continue for a week.

Foreign trade, it is declared, by leaders of the convention, is suffering from a contraction of credits, and a great deal of the time of the convention will be given over to an analysis of the conditions which exporters now have to face through this condition.

The huge export balance of trade built up by the United States since 1915, which, to a great extent, remains unliquidated and unfunded to-day, constitutes "an intolerable burden" upon the exchanges, said James A. Farrell, of New York, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, who will open the convention.

Speakers of international repute will deal with all the phases of the problems confronting business men in building up trade with foreign countries. In addition to these addresses special attention will be paid to the "trade advisor service," which has been especially arranged for answering intricate questions which present conditions have raised for American exporters. Seventy-five trade experts, representing almost as many lines, will compose the advisory staff of the convention.

Among the prominent speakers at the convention will be Fred I. Kent, of the Bankers' Trust Company, who will discuss "Financing Foreign Trade"; W. P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board, whose topic will be "Frozen Credits—What They are and How to Thaw Them"; George R. Meyer, of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, "The Lumber Exporters' Need for Long Credit Machinery."

On Friday James A. Farrell, chairman of the convention and also chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, will discuss "American Maritime Policy."

Efforts were made to secure the attendance of President Harding at the annual banquet Friday evening, but owing to the pressure of governmental duties, the chief executive was compelled to decline. Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon or Secretary of Commerce Hoover are expected to take his place on the program, and it is hoped that at that time the administration's policy toward American business in foreign trade will be authoritatively outlined.

Small boy—"Say, mister gimme a pound uv oysters."

Dealer—"We sell oysters by the measure, my boy, not by pound."

Small Boy—"Well, den, gimme a yard."

MATRONS GIVE DINNER DANCE

A big affair was the function at the Masonic Temple Friday night, when matrons, patrons and trailers of O. E. S. chapters in Southern California were entertained at the temple with a dinner dance given by the Matrons' Association. Covers were laid for 150 and the tables decorated with sweet peas and greenery, looked very pretty when guests were summoned to enjoy the feast prepared.

As was to be expected, guests were nearly all from other cities, the local group being limited to Mrs. Irma Naudain, worthy patron, her husband and daughter; W. W. Worley, worthy patron, his wife because of her recent accident, being unable to accompany him; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vesper. The dancing which constituted the diversion of the evening, was quite informal.

"Who was the first man, Bobby?" asked the teacher.

"George Washington."

"Why, Bobby, you ought to know better than that. It was Adam."

"Aw, I wasn't countin' foreigners."

"Grandpa, I saw something so funny running across the kitchen floor with out any legs. What do you think it was?"

Grandpa had to give up. "What was it?"

"Water," replied Dora triumphantly.

There are silk brocade purses and bags of all sorts that are really beautiful in texture and color.

GOOD WORKERS FOR GLEN AND DALE

Tonight, let us present to the citizens of Glendale, the entertainment committee of the state convention, headed by Miss Ethel Preston as chairman.

This committee has the easy task of securing entertainment for all of the delegates that come to our fair city, from remotest corners of this wonderful state. Probably no one realizes as does the committee itself the bigness of the undertaking, but from present indications everyone who comes to visit us will have a bed, even if they do not sleep—anyway.

Last Saturday evening this committee had its second meeting at the home of the vice-chairman, Mrs. C. C. Stoler, 339 West Colorado street.

The session was marked by its good attendance and the splendid spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm manifested by the members of the committee.

One of the first things to be done by the committee was to divide the city into ten districts with one district for Eagle Rock and Burbank, each of which is supervised by a competent captain chosen from one of the cooperating churches. These captains will each have their helpers to assist in the canvassing and during the eventful days in June. Those already chosen are: Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. James Newton, Mrs. Edwin Murphy, Mrs. Glenn Porter, Mrs. Frazee, Mrs. Warren West, Miss Evangeline Quack, Mrs. Mary McCall and Miss Sarah McNary of Eagle Rock. These ladies are all willing to do their share towards making the convention a success and only ask that the people of Glendale assist them as best they can.

Yours for a happy time, June 25-29. GLEN AND DALE.

"HELLO, CENTRAL," give me the Palace Grand, Palace Grand? Will you hold "FOURTEEN" tickets to "NEIGHBORS"? What? Tickets are going so fast you can't hold them? I'll come right down. I must have them as I can't afford to miss the run.—Advertisement.
